

Wolf&Rabbit Marketing Celebrates One Year of Growth and Expansion

Tampa, FL

Release Date: July 1, 2018

July 1 marks one year of business for Wolf & Rabbit Marketing of Wolf & Rabbit Inc. What started as a small boutique agency to serve small business owners, has turned into a growing team of social media experts and digital creators.

“We started our company when we saw marketing companies taking advantage of small business owners,” Ren Lopa says, “we’ve been honored to serve these companies with honesty, integrity, transparent pricing and respect!”

The anniversary marks the end of Q2 2018 with average quarterly increase of 89% for year one. To continue this momentum, they have expanded their team and are opening the Wolfpack Academy training courses to offer online resources for small business owners.

“A big mission of the past year was to be able to balance working with giving back to our community.” Jai Lopa explains, “We made volunteering a priority and have been able to support five different local non-profits with time, media knowledge and advertising support.”
